UMAPP works hard to ensure everyone understands the benefits and value of a UMAPP membership. As the promotional products industry continues to evolve, we all agree – UMAPP can help grow and protect your business.

Did You Know?

UMAPP is now playing a stronger, more active role in developing programs to ensure the industry is understood at the local government level. By doing so, UMAPP is helping erase poorly written legislation which would have a negative impact on the promotional products industry. This allows you to devote more time to what matters most, your business and your clients.
